A: Feeling depressed about a new academic year?

B: No, why? I'm glad to see everyone again! And you?

A: I wish we had one more week for a free summer life… But, yes, it's nice to see everyone again.

B: (1) _____ (you / find out) about the new timetable?

A: No, I haven't yet. They (2) _____ (tell) us about it next Monday the earliest.

B: I think we are in for a busy year. Well,… life is tough. And we need to concentrate on the lessons. We can't put studying off. Not any more.

A: Right. And do you remember the fun we (3) _____ (have) last year?

B: Yeah, it was a nice time. It started when Andy (4) _____ (appear) in our class. He stirred our life and made it busy and exciting.

A: He arranged the English Club, all by himself! Then he (5) _____ (write) to an American school and (6) _____ (suggest) doing projects together. We were doing some Geographical projects at that time.

B: And Americans were a great help! They (7) _____ (provide) us with some absolutely unique information about the American continent and sent us some samples of minerals from their school museum.

A: Our Geography teacher (8) _____ (impress) when she saw the presentation. She asked us to repeat it several times for junior students, and even (9) _____ (invite) her colleagues from other schools to see it.

B: And do you know why Andy knows English so well?

A: He's just keen on it. And he (10) _____ (learn) it since he was seven. Not a bad result, yeah?
