

Creative Writing - 4 Easy Steps An Essay Writer Must Know!

What is creative writing? How do we write a creative essay in this article? I will answer these questions and give you some simple steps for doing just that so stay tuned. I'm Manoj creative writing is a powerful tool telling a story it helps our social and individual growth and is one of the most important skills. We can ever learn it stretches the imagination and offers a wonderful outlet for self-expression. What is creative writing it is every form of narrative writing from poetry to feature articles in newspapers to novels. The list is endless simply put it is anything that is not academic and technical here's. How to write a creative essay in four easy steps step number one to fast essay writing service. Choose your subject when choosing a subject pick something you and others will find interesting it does not have to be a subject that you know well in which case what do you do step number two research the background all good writers research the background for the essay story novel etc if you need to go talk to people who know the authorities on the subject ask questions and learn more about the subject matter take some time to think through your topic look at it from different perspectives write down all your thoughts on the subject relevant or random it doesn't matter just list them down you can sift through it later to decide what you want step number three draw up a plan for the essay write down.

How what when where? Who for the essay this will guide you? Keep you on track so you don't go down a meandering path after this it is time to flesh out the how what when where and who questions to add content to the story step number four write the essay once you have the first three steps in place start writing the story use your outline. Start with the introduction in the introduction create the scenario to draw your readers attention describe. The place the time and background be fun and engaging so your readers will want to know more next. The body of the essay this is where you develop the plot of the essay it can be just one paragraph for a short story or several paragraphs if the story is longer showcase one main idea in each paragraph develop the story in a smooth and fluid way don't be choppy flow from one paragraph to another. How do we make the story flow transitions. Can be words like yet? But and so on they are useful and seamlessly move from one idea to another transitions are usually used in the middle of a sentence but they can be used in the beginning to emphasize a point. I just did that I used but in the beginning of a sentence when it is usually used in the middle but in the beginning will emphasize the content of a sentence following the but and gives continuity to the thought process in the previous sentence other common transitions we use our words like however also and therefore transitions are important but be careful not to overuse them in your essay there are many more transition words.

I'll get into them more fully in another video finally now there's a transition for you we come to the conclusion of the creative essay the conclusion. Where the whole plot comes together to tidy up the story or not that depends on you the author? how you want the story to end it? Can be neat and tidy like a happily ever after like a fairy tale ending? Can be a cliffhanger where the ending is left shouted in suspense the ending or conclusion of your essay is important? Don't rush it or end it abruptly it must leave a strong enough impact to stay in the readers mind after reading it now that your creative essay is done check it. Thoroughly for spelling and grammatical errors change whatever does not read write or flow. Well think about the effect that the essay will have on the reader ask someone else to proofread it for you very often we miss errors in our own writing that others will pick up once your essay is checked proof read corrected and checked again it's done it's as simple as that. I hope you found these tips useful if you know someone who needs help with creative writing send them a link to this guide meanwhile give me a thumbs up leave me a comment and check out my website it's English calm half your writing and see you next time you.