

PHONICS

- 4 Explain the reading rules and practise reading the words.

habit – rabbit, answer – ancient, even – event, celery – ceremony, present – pressure, orgy – origin, son – song – sun, tea – tear, see – sea, mask – musk, feet – feast, quiz – cuisine, date – diet, merry – marry – marriage, weed – wedding, hospital – hospitality, superstar – superstition, cut – cult, chain – chamber, price – priest, war – worship, papyrus – papyri

- 5 Explain the reading rules and practise reading the rhyme.

If you eat at a feast,
Don't eat like a beast.
Don't eat till you die,
Have a small piece of pie.
Help yourself to some seafood,
Mind that seafood is good.
Dogs and frogs are your choice.
Try and then give your voice –
Praise foreign food
If it's really good.
Some cuisines may taste strange.
Well, enjoy what you cannot change!

* * *

I thought it through, though not thoroughly.
One beast bit the other beast and beat it.
This snow show shows real snow.
After the fist fight there was a feast.
Breathe a little deeper, please.
Stop breathing and hold your breath.
Clean your teeth to make your breath fresh.
Do hotels on the sea coast cost much?

- 6 Odd one out.

- 1 through, true, thorough
- 2 piece, pie, sea
- 3 price, east, priest
- 4 tea, here, near
- 5 war, wall, worship
- 6 large, cut, car
- 7 even, easy, event
- 8 marry, Mary, carry

GRAMMAR

Mixed conditional sentences

- 7 Practise the conversations.

- 1 If you had been to China, you would know the taste of real Chinese tea.—
I have been to China and I know the taste of this tea.
- 2 If you had kept a healthy diet in your youth, you would not have extra weight now.— I know, but I have a very good appetite.

If ... had been...,
... would know...

See *Grammar
reference*